STIRS OREGONMysterious Forces Launch
Attack on GovernorKlan Men, Denied Patron-

Origin of Petitions

Is big business behind it? What has Pierce done that he should be subjected to such severe punishment after only a few months in office? Who put up the $15,000 which the dummy recall committee has at its disposal for this campaign? The Governor himself is trying to find out these things and promises the fight of his life against recall if the petition fails to carry 3000 names out of a necessary 42,500, is filed. He probably would be a candidate on the recall election and would be elected, and it is such a weird law that he might be recalled and replaced in office at the same time.

If the recall is successful the Ku Klux Klan, which is one of the politically important factors in the situation, probably would claim credit, although the Klan officially denies that it is back of the movement. I am able to state that at least a faction of the Klan is involved in the recall movement.

At the time the petition was to get into the last Governorship

primary war on Ben W. Olcott, then Governor, a candidate to succeed himself against Charles

Klan Klax, which caused trouble

in Medford and other towns. A fervent proponent, somewhat after

the style of William of Orange,

directed Klan forces against him.

He was the Klan candidate. Olcott won.

KLAN VOTE SWITCHES

The Klan vote was ready to swing into the Democratic column.

Mr. Pierce, who at that time was a member of the revenue investigating committee, swung aboard

the chariot and the Klan vote majority of 35,000. In order to be sure of the guaranteeing of the Klan vote he wrote a letter during the campaign endorsing a bill which had been placed on the ballot by initiative petition which provided that all children in the state between the ages of 8 and 16 would be forced to attend the public schools after September 1, 1924.

This bill hit parochial and private schools. This bill became a law.

Its enforcement will be subjected to test in the courts.

Gov. Pierce had hardly taken office when his troubles began with the Klan. It is said that he became a member of the Klan at this time, but this has never been confirmed. It is also said that he told opponents of the school bill

that he had to write the letter favoring it in order to get elected,

but that he did not mean it and for it. The Governor is a great campaigner and a good premier.

With dramatic effect he would stand before his audience and tear a sheet of paper in two,

declaring that that was what he would do with the school bill.

FARMERS LINGER

The poor farmers lingered to him and they are still with him on this issue, although there has been no reduction of taxes and a state income tax is up for referendum on November 6, with the Governor's approval back of it.

Although willing to take Klan or any other votes, the Governor

proved to be a stubborn customer

when it came to distributing patrage. He swung to the old-line

Democrats. An incident is told of a Klan messenger appearing in the corridors of the Statehouse

and demanding appointments on

the Industrial Accident Commission. One who was present at this conversation reports the Governor

as saying:

"I am not going to be governed by any Klan. Tell Gifford (the Klan Cyclops) that I want to serve my term, but I am not going to be governed by anybody, even if I have to suffer the recall."

The Governor's friends insist that he made no promises of any kind to the Klan, but did say that he would not make appointments which would be particularly objectionable to the Klan.

If this is true, the Governor violated the spirit of the State constitution, which says that all qualifications shall not be considered in State offices.

Soon after this an appointment to the Game Commission set up recall backfire and the appointment was revoked.

Other appointments ignored the Klan and last June the Western American, official organ of the order, set up the cry for recall.

This Klan cry was soon stopped, however, by Fred L. Gifford, the conservative leader of the order,

and the announcement was made that the Klan was not engaged in the recall.

Other elements, perhaps even more important, enter the situation. The Governor had not done anything particularly good or bad, but he made enemies who moved to make use of the Klan.

His advocacy of the public-school bill, gross-earnings tax, severance pay on timber and fish, his glowing forebodings regarding the future of the farmers and the State bonds, and particularly his irrigation policy, created an opposition which from several quarters could muster the recall funds and forces. He became odious to certain business interests and to the optimistic State boosters hunting for eastern money. He was called the "crope hanger." He called himself the "hand of death" and was charged with lacking faith in the glorious empire of the Columbia.

IRRIGATION IS ISSUE

The State guarantees interest on irrigation bonds and certifies them

as legal investment for trust funds.

The law says the price of the land and improvements shall be double the amount of the bonds. The hunger of the farmers in the dry belt for water on their lands and the greed of land speculators led to wildcatting and mushroom investment districts which were bonded at twice the value of half their value. Gov. Pierce came down hard on this. He insisted that the bonds

be sound, that water be sequestered

and that contracts be economical.

The cry was raised that he had

"throttled irrigation."

The recall at least has served to call attention to the evils in some of the irrigation schemes, and it will be on this issue that the Governor seeks independence from the people. Construction companies,

men who sell cement to Oregon contractors, and the irrigation lawyers are behind the recall. It is said that one concern gave its political favor a leave of absence to enter the recall.

Suddenly the recall machine was set in motion. Offices were opened everywhere and the recall lawyers were set out to get signatures at 10 cents each. A. E. Campbell, a

Klan Klax, which caused trouble

in Medford and other towns. A

fervent proponent, somewhat after

the style of William of Orange,

directed Klan forces against him.

He was the Klan candidate. Olcott

to the city and at the luncheon Jewish citizens, through Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, presented a testimonial on parchment in recognition of his services in the attempt to establish in the Holy Land a national home for the Jewish people. Replying to this presentation, Lloyd George said he hoped the movement was the beginning of a restoration which will leave "at least a mark upon the story of the human race as your first occupation of the Holy ground."

"All my life," he added, "I have fought against the oppressor, and have consecrated such strength as God has given me to fight for the weak and the oppressed whom I conceived to be persecuted and trampled."

During his luncheon address to his tour of Canada, Mr. Lloyd George declared that the Dominion was a vast country with immense possibilities, but it was naturally in the stage of development in which you were perhaps 100 years ago with reference to your country," adding that he was anxious to see this amazing new civilization, untrammelled, freed from the difficulties, the embarrassments, the traditions, the hatreds and the terrible problems which are afflicting Europe, and making it difficult at every turn for progress to have a clear path."

"I am from a troubled continent," he continued, "This continent is at peace, I crossed the frontier last night—the most remarkable frontier in the world—without fort and guns, and soldiers, and barbed wire to protect it. The frontiers of poor Europe bristle with the mechanism of slaughter."

DRAMATIC REHEARSAL

You are the continent of peace

and in your name keep the continent of peace. There are races here which have been interlocked in Europe in fearful, savage, barbarous contest of generations. You are welding them into one people, living at the same national hearthstone, warming their bodies at the same great national fire."

Speaking of his pleasure at visiting the Middle West, Mr. Lloyd

George said he had found that politically it was the part of America that baffled politicians.

During the war, he added,

"Whenever we wanted to know something about America, they said to us: 'Well, it depends on the Middle West,' and if we said something they said: 'Hush, you must not say that, otherwise the Middle West will hear it. If we say anything, they will say: 'You can't have it, the Middle West wants it.' So I was very anxious to see what the Middle West was like."

HENEY TALKS AT VINEYARD TRIAL

Plaintiff Tells of Making Loans to Relatives

Letters Introduced to Back Up His Claims

Early History of Family is Given to Court

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN JOSE, Oct. 15.—Francis J. Heney, Los Angeles attorney, took the witness stand in Superior Judge Brown's court today to defend himself against the charge of fraud in acquiring the title to the Chateau Ricardo Vineyard, made against him when he brought suit to oust his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary A. Heney and her son, Edwin, from the property. The witness gave a detailed description of the family and its activities and business relations from the time of their departure from New York for stevedores for San Francisco in the early 1880s.

Richard Heney, Jr., former husband of the defendant, Mary A. Heney, was a half brother, the plaintiff said, and fourteen years older than the witness. Richard's mother died when he was a few days old and Richard Heney, Sr., married the plaintiff's mother about a year later, the witness testified. Shortly after arriving at San Francisco, the father and his two sons, Richard and William, established a furniture store, from which Richard retired about 1888.

TRANSACTION IN 1881
The first financial transaction between the plaintiff and his brother took place in 1881, when the plaintiff said that he was in Idaho sick and Richard loaned him $150. It was at this time, the witness testified, that he wrote the letter in which he declared that he hoped there would come a time when he could repay Richard and his wife for their kindness. So far as he could remember, the plaintiff said, this was the only money he ever borrowed from his brother, and that it was paid back.

The plaintiff then told of his admission to the bar and later opening a law office in Tucson, where he was there the first loan was made to Richard, the witness said, inducing a client to accept their joint liability for a loan of $5000. This loan was later paid, half in 1889, the plaintiff testified, when again, at the request of Richard, he succeeded in getting a client, Albert Steinfield, now a banker in Tucson, to loan his brother $2500 with the plaintiff signing the note. Among other loans mentioned by the witness was one of his father to Richard, of $6000 and this indebtedness, left to two sisters by the father, has never been paid, he said.

The plaintiff then detailed his activities as a prosecutor for the government in fraud cases and declared that on one occasion, while he was in San Francisco in 1895, he loaned Richard $1500, the latter stating that he then owed the bank $21,000 and was being pressed for payment of interest.

DAMAGED BY QUAKE

After the earthquake in 1906, the plaintiff testified that he went to the vineyard and found that the winery had been damaged. His brother then pointed out the necessity of making quick repairs so that the grape crop could be taken care of that year or the bank would foreclose on him, the witness said, and after a lengthy discussion the plaintiff agreed to advance Richard $5000, the amount estimated as necessary to repair the winery. The plaintiff testified that a condition of the loan was that he was to personally take up the care of the vineyard. The plaintiff had one or more letters connected with them and scores of these were read into the record. When court adjourned the plaintiff had only brought the transactions down to the year 1911.

Leonardo and Joe Terro, who bought last year's prune crop grown on the property, from the defendant, Heney, testified today on behalf of the plaintiff.

ARIZONA UNIONS HIT COLORADO PROJECT

LABOR FEDERATION ASKS POWER COMMISSION TO REFUSE PERMITS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PHOENIX, Oct. 15.—The Arizona State Federation of Labor this afternoon unanimously ordered its members to oppose any project sent to the United States Power Commission the text of a resolution declaring against the issuance of a power permit on the Colorado to any individual company or corporation. This was directed especially against the pending Greenway Grand application for permission to proceed north of Peach Springs, Ariz. The membership of the federation declared in favor of State ownership of power generation on the river.

Censure was given one of the delegates, J. K. Jones, for his written statement that the State federation had broken up the Biebee union. The rest of the day was spent in hearing reports and in discussion of plans to launch a campaign of unionism in Arizona, where no miners' unions are understood to be active at the present time. Two district councils and thirteen unions are represented.

Though a note of acrimony was sounded lately in the district union at Tucson over the action of Gov. Hunt and his committee of nine in favoring the Greenway-Grand enterprise, no reference to the Governor's action was made in today's sessions.

WIEDFELDT RETURNING TO HIS POST

German Ambassador Sees in New Treaty Model for Accords of Nations

BY JOHN CLAYTON

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Otto Wiedfeldt, sailing Tuesday aboard the Resolute to resume the post of Ambassador to the United States, returns with the conviction that all differences between the United States and Germany over property claims and other difficulties arising out of the war are well on their way toward a settlement.

"If the settlement continues as started, the United States can claim the signal honor of being the only nation in the world in which private property is safe," said Herr Wiedfeldt. In the new treaty draft which was brought back by Herr Wiedfeldt for consideration by the German government, the Ambassador sees the model of future accords which will combine assurances of friendly relations with commercial agreements and place international amity on a new basis.

Dog Loses in Battle Against Two Yeggmen

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—In the dark and cluttered alleys of a cheese and olive oil store, today two men and a dog fought for the possession of a tiny safe. The dog lost. A cheese knife was thrust through his body and he was thrown on a pile of rubbish behind a counter.

The dog, a mongrel, fell asleep in the doorway of No. 48 Thompson street. Joe Louy Cicero, owner of the store at that address, stumbled over him and carried him inside. The dog was named Tony and became a vital part of the Cicero family.

Last night Joe locked up his store and Tony was left in charge. At 5 o'clock this morning Joe was called by the police. The store had been entered from the rear, the safe ripped with a "can opener" and crates of cheese had been broken into. Joe whistled for the dog. A whimpering sound came from behind a counter. The knife was removed from the dog and a veterinarian was called. He arrived too late.

ORIENTAL RUGS

I AM STILL AT WAR, and my competitors are circulating the story that I am "going broke and coco." I might be the latter, but you will never live to see the sign of the Board of Trade above my door.

I made the announcement to you folks last week that I am declaring war on my entire stock of Persian and Mongolian Chinese Rugs. I am kicking myself out of the retail business, and the prices that I am selling them for, "will knock you stiff." The wise ones who attended the sale last week, took away over three hundred Rugs. There are still over five hundred Rugs left, and I will not declare an armistice until every Rug is sold.

For the folks that are in the market for Oriental Rugs is to take advantage of this war sale, and be sure to bring with you, your money, and take the rugs away.

STAD SPINSTER HAD GOOD TIME

Cashier for Printing Firm Said to Have Confessed

Accused of Stealing Money for Cabaret Parties

Eighteen-Month Whirl Ends in Chicago Cell

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—"Yes, I certainly took the money—about $8000 or $9000—and we certainly did have a good time in the cabaret. Why, sometimes I've paid as high as $4 to get a drink." This, according to the police, was the startling admission of Joan McDonough, a staid spinster of 50 years, when she was arrested after her employers had discovered a shortage in her accounts.

Miss McDonough is educated and cultured. She occupied modest rooms in one of the less pretentious residence sections of the city. She dresses plainly, wears gold-rimmed spectacles and is short and thickset. Just the sort of person one would expect to find behind the counter in a book shop or teaching school.

But she admits she spent her money and that of her employers in enjoying the gay night life of Chicago in company with a milliner who keeps a shop on State street.

TELLS OF MILLINER During the day she was the cashier for the Herschman-Cady Printing Company, at night, a habitué of cabarets and gay restaurants.

"I had a wonderful time for the last eighteen months," she said. "Then I met a woman who ran a millinery shop. She took me to cabarets and sold me liquor. And I got to like the life."

"She and I went out every night. We used to go to De Jonghe's Hotel before it was closed by the government. We went to the Roma and Little Italy and many other places. I can't remember them all."

"I started taking from $100 to $500 a week, but I don't know how long in a cabaret. Sometimes I'd get a whole pint of liquor for $4 and then I'd get paid that much for a single drink."

"But I drank everything and did everything. I had a good time."

JILTING SUGGESTED The milliner, accused by Miss McDonough of jilting her, denied her charges of drinking liquor, although she admitted that she had accompanied her on numerous trips to cabarets and restaurants.

She hinted, however, that Miss McDonough had been jilted by a man unknown to her and that may have been the cause for her peculiarities. To further complicate the case, Miss McDonough's lawyer denied there was any man in the case and blamed the milliner for the spinster cashier's fall.

Meanwhile, Miss McDonough sits in a cell, penitent, but admitting that she had a "wonderful time."

Woman Named for Place on Chicago Bench

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—For the first time in the history of Chicago politics a woman has been nominated for the Circuit Court bench.

Mary M. Bartelme, assistant to Judge Victor Arnold in the Juvenile Court, and known all over the United States for her work with delinquent boys and girls, has been nominated by Republicans.

Judge Arnold is enthusiastic about her candidacy, and has given her his hearty endorsement.

"Mary Bartelme is not only a woman, but a trained, sympathetic woman with a consistently high record in the juvenile court," said the judge. "There are some positions where it is absolutely necessary to have a woman in charge. The juvenile court cases with delinquent girls is a striking example of this."

AUTO SKIDS, WOMAN KILLED (BY A. P. WIRE) DANIELSON (CL) Oct. 15.—Mrs. Dora Morin of Seattle, Wash., was killed today on Dark Lantern Hill, about four miles east of here, when an automobile driven by her husband Wilfred skidded and overturned. They were en route to Providence, R. I., to fill a theatrical engagement.

REICHSMANN TROOPS REARREST ROSSBACH (BY A. P. WIRE) BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Lieut. Rossbach, released Saturday, after being held in prison since spring, charged with conspiracy to overthrow the republic, was rearrested today by Reichsmann troops on express orders from Otto Gessler.

It is reported that the Minister of War feels that the affair has become dangerous. There is much excitement among the workingmen in Berlin and Saxony, and the Socialists and Democrats in the government demand the immediate cancellation of Gessler's military dictatorship.

The package had been consigned by the Capital National Bank of Sacramento to the Bank of Courtland, Sacramento county.

LOUNGE LIZARDS HAVE FIELD DAY

Men With Clinched Fists Manage to Stave Off Desire to Kill

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Oct. 15.—It speaks volumes for the self-restraint of Hoosierdom that the newest specimen of sheik or lounge lizard, was permitted to parade the streets here and escape with his life. In addition to the patent-leather hair, plucked eyebrows, powdered flashed roused face, bull-bottled trousers and other regalia of the "she-men," this person wore tiny coral earrings—and got away with it.

Police men flung their clubs nervously, men clenched their fists and cursed under their breath, and women laughed outright.

But the cake eaters declare the fad will sweep the nation. Other people say the nation needs liberal doses of disinfectants when asserted men reach the stage of wearing earrings.

AMERICANS ALL DEPART FROM TOKIO

Woods Presents Hospital and Offers Flag as Token of Nation's Friendship

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) TOKIO, Oct. 15.—The American evacuation has been completed and the relief workers are embarking on the transport Somme for Manila.

American Ambassador Woods in an impressive speech Saturday proclaimed Japan's "11,000,000 hospital in the name of the American people. Baron Hikoichi Ijima accepted in the name of the Japanese government and Japanese people."

The American flag was hoisted down, folded and presented to the Japanese Ambassador who presented it to Baron Ijima, the latter bowing and accepting the pledge of friendship and good will.

The Japanese officials now are entertaining delegates from Australia, who brought a relief ship containing 1,600,000 yen ($10,000) worth of food, clothing and medical supplies.

Plans for a city beautiful include completing Marunouchi as the civic center with tram and tube lines centering there. The park area will be increased fourfold.

State Printer Saves Money on Textbook Issue

(BY A. P. WIRE) SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—A saving of $4491.49, or 34 per cent, was effected by the State printing plant in printing the fourth and fifth readers for the schools of California in editions of 25,000 each. State Printer Frank J. Smith announced today.

Smith declared that the printing of the text-books cost $13,000, and that the cut in production cost brings the total saving in the printing of text-books since January to $11,914.75.

AIRPLANE USES NO LANDMARKS

Results of Nonstop Trip to Boston Announced

Navigation by Instruments is Complete Success

Sextant Findings Accurately Guide Over Clouds

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The practicality of navigating an airplane accurately by the use of instruments alone and without the aid of landmarks, was demonstrated by a recent flight from McCook Field, Dayton, O., to Boston, according to an announcement yesterday by the Army Air Service.

This unique cross-country nonstop flight was made by Lieut. Albert F. Hegenberger and Bradley Jones, navigation engineer at McCook Field, on September 5, the greater part of the journey being made completely out of sight of landmarks at an altitude of more than 10,000 feet.

Undaunted by reports of adverse weather conditions, Lieut. Hegenberger and Mr. Jones took off at 10 a. m. A stock DH airplane was used, modified to carry large gasolene and oil tanks. A complete vertical instrument board, holding an air-speed meter, a flight indicator and an earth indicator compass was placed in the front cockpit.

CLOUD DRIFT MEASURED The rear cockpit was especially fitted to facilitate the taking of accurate observations. It contained a magnetic compass and the control dial of the earth-indicator compass, and in the floor was a large drift sight.

The sky was filled with large cloud patches, which increased as they drew nearer. By means of a new type of drift meter, the drift to the north by a cross wind was measured and the compass course rectified accordingly. After forty minutes of flying the stadium of Ohio State University at Columbus was sighted to the south of the course, then the clouds became quite dense. The plane accepted above the clouds and glimpes of the Ohio River at Beavertown gave assurance that the course was being correctly followed, then the blanket of clouds again hid the ground.

EARTH OBSCURED The lower tier of clouds stretched from 3000 to 7000 feet altitude and above this storm, only to encounter another stratum of clouds at 8000 feet. Climbing through this, the flyers found themselves in clear sunlight a little above 10,000 feet. A solid wall of clouds stretched above them. Next a glimpse of a landmark was obtained there—after several hours. The entire State of Pennsylvania was passed over.

At 3:40 p. m. Lieut. Hegenberger estimated that he should be close to the Hudson River, so he descended through the clouds and the Hudson was crossed not five minutes later. From Ohio to the Hudson the trip had been made without sight of earth. The flight was continued under the clouds, passing over Hartford, Ct., which was recognized and was the first check on the course after 400 miles of travel.

WORLD ALLIANCE PLANS (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—President Harding's words, "to remind the world anew that we are ready for our part in furthering peace and adding to stability in world affairs," will head the program of the eighth annual meeting of the American Council of the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches, to take place here November 13, 14 and 15. The Philadelphia Church Federation will act as host. The speakers and delegates will come from all parts of the world.

ARRESTED AS WHITE SLAVERS

Men in Germany Accused of Shipping Women to United States

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS) BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Three alleged white slaves have been arrested by the German police in connection with the shipment of young women to the United States and Holland. One of the men, known to the police as Charles Frank, is suspected of being the person for whom an incriminating letter, intercepted in a Hamburg hotel, was intended. This letter, signed with only a given name, gives the information that "five girls came through and are safe."

I have sent them to San Francisco to the Blue Bird. The letter said there was much trouble in getting through the police in Hamburg and that it was necessary to drug two of the girls.

Cornelius Ritter, a German, and a Hollander named Van Gulpen, arrested at Emmerich, on the Dutch border, are held on a charge of having lured fifty German girls into Holland upon representation that they would be given work there.

EUREKA POLICE RAID WOBBLY GATHERING (BY A. P. WIRE) EUREKA, Oct. 15.—The police broke up what they believed to be a State convention of the Industrial Workers of the World last night, when they raided a restaurant and placed eight men under arrest. SHIP BREAKING BIDS INTEREST

Many Inquiries From Foreign Junk Firms Received

Vessels to be Scrapped Will be Sold to Americans

Navy Department to Strip
All Craft of War Material

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Keen interest is being shown by foreign ship-breaking firms in the disposal of American war vessels to be scrapped in accordance with the naval disarmament treaties.
Inquiries have been received from many British, Dutch, German and French firms as well as individuals in those countries requesting information in regard to the sale of the ships to be scrapped. The information, apparently, is sought with a view of entering bids for these ships.
Capt. Edmund W. Bonaffon, officer in charge of sale of naval vessels, points out, however, that these vessels are to be sold only to citizens of the United States and scrapped in this country in accordance with the terms of the treaties. Bids from any foreign government or person will not be considered, he says.

SALE DATES GIVEN
Bids for the sale of these vessels are to be opened at the Navy Department at 11 a.m. on the days of sale. These will be, on the 25th Inst., November 1, November 3 and November 20. All bids, to be considered, must be received before that hour on the day of sale.

The work of rendering these vessels unfit for warlike service, as called for by the treaty, is being done by the government at its own expense and will be completed before the ships are placed on sale. The guns have just been dismounted and all naval and mechanical apparatus is being removed for other use.

BULLETIN EXPLAINS STAND
Much interest has been aroused in the ultimate fate of the sea fighters to be scrapped. A bulletin explaining the government's position in the matter has just been issued by the Navy Department.
This states that "each bid must be accompanied by either cash deposit, certified check or cashier's check in a sum not less than one-tenth of the amount of the bid;
and also by a bond in a penalty
equal to the amount of the bid, with two or more sureties to be approved by the Secretary of the Navy, or one acceptable corporate surety, conditioned for the payment of the remaining 90 per cent of the bid within thirty days from the date of award."
Within thirty days after the award the purchaser will be required to enter into a contract to complete the scrapping of the vessel within eighteen months from the date of ratification of the treaty, which went into effect August 17, last, and to give bond for performance of this contract. Disposition of the vessels to be offered for sale is permitted before bids are submitted.

INDUSTRY NOT NEW
Shipbreaking is a well-developed industry in Europe, Navy officers say. The methods employed in this industry in this country and Europe differed materially until recently. Americans still burn some of their obsolete wooden ships in order to pick up the fastenings with a minimum of trouble, they point out, but British firms are willing to pay a good price for such vessels, and after breaking them up by manual labor have no difficulty in selling the timbers as fuel for open places and in wood-burning operations. Great Britain was long ago driven to the necessity of carefully utilizing all metal contained in the fabric of both war and merchant ships for which there is no further use.
Several large companies and many small ones have sprung up in Great Britain since the war and all are engaged in scrapping war and merchant ships which have become of no further use.
Large profits have been reported by them in this work.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE DISCUSSES DEFENSE

OPENING SPEECH DELIVERED
BY LORD SALISBURY
NOT RELEASED

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, Oct. 15.—Imperial defense was the only subject discussed by the Imperial Conference here this afternoon. The opening speech by Marquis Salisbury
chairman of the National Defense Committee, lasted more than two hours but at the conclusion it was decided that, in view of the nature of the subjects, not to make it public.
This was the first appearance of Lord Salisbury, Lord Derby and Sir Samuel Hoare, the latter minister of air at the conference.
The next meeting of the conference will be Wednesday morning
when the question of naval defense will be considered. It is likely that the Singapore base will be brought up.
Tomorrow morning and afternoon the Imperial economic conference will meet to consider coordinate action for the improvement of technical research. Later in the day it is expected to consider imperial shipping and communications. Sir Hailefom Mackendor, head of the imperial shipping, will make the opening speech.

FRENCH HOLD FIRM AGAINST PROTESTS

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PARIS, Oct. 15.—France has no intention of allowing herself to be haled before the World Court at The Hague by Switzerland despite declarations and protest from Bern that Swiss rights have been "violated" by France in occupying the neutralized zone in Haute Sa-voie.
The Quai d'Orsay imperiously declares that the conversation has not been interrupted and that the "French government has the firm intention to continue them until an accord is reached which will reinforce the existing friendly relations between France and Switzerland."
Official French justification for this act which the Swiss style
"brusque" is that Switzerland left France waiting for a reply seven months.

Los Angeles County Event May Set Records
Schools to Close to Let Children Attend

Congressman Fredericks to Deliver Address

POMONA, Oct. 15.—With a record for space for both exhibits and concessions at the Los Angeles County Fair still pouring in with no hope of filling the greater portion of them, fair officials today predicted that a record would be closed this week by the number of exhibitors and money value of displays. Guy V. Whaley, Superintendent of Schools, announced this morning that the city schools would be closed this week for the fair and with admissions on Tuesday free to school children, a capacity crowd is expected.

After the gates open at 10 a.m., a procession will be formed to go from the main gates to the grand stand where the formal opening ceremony will take place. The marchers will be preceded by the Boy Scout Band with officials of the fair, city, county, state and federal officials and many other prominent men of the south following. Congressman John D. Fredericks will give the main address of the day.

The various tents will be opened immediately after this and judging in the various departments will begin at 11 o'clock. The harness and running horse races will begin at 2 p.m. with a pace trial, running races and men's relay race being the features.

Robert A. Condee, a member of the board of directors of the fair, today stated that the live-stock department was the best. Balanced show on the coast this year and made a guess that a million dollars would not cover the total valuation of the show.

More than 200 Boy Scouts will be employed in shift shifts throughout the day and night and will be a great aid in handling the crowds and in emergencies.

No better time could be chosen for visiting Hotel del Coronado, Coronado Beach, than at present. Summer rates. Weather wonderful. Golf course in excellent shape. Noverness & Wall agents, 511 Spring street, Main 3917.—(Advertiser)

RIVER POWER PLANS HIT

Pasadena Protests Granting of Permits to Private Interests for Development of Colorado

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Oct. 15.—Vigorous protests against the granting of power permits on the Colorado River to power concerns were sent to the government today by the city of Pasadena. This city is now joined with Los Angeles, San Diego and Long Beach in protesting the proposed grants. That Congress be given sufficient time to consider the recommendations made in the Fall-Davis report was another item in the message sent to Washington.

Telegrams from Hiram W. Wadsworth, chairman of the City Board of Directors, were sent to President Coolidge, Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Interior Work, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and O. C. Merritt, executive secretary to the Federal Power Commission.

Pasadena has taken a prominent part in the Colorado River affair ever since the Boulder Canyon Dam project was launched. This city appropriated $500,000 so that the government surveys might continue their work when federal appropriations were lacking.

The text of the Pasadena protest was:

MEXICAN DIES AS HE ARRIVES AT HOSPITAL

VENTURA, Oct. 15.—Estevan Bustillos was a sick man, but he didn't know much about the customs of this country. He was a laborer, 55 or 60 years of age, and when sickness overcame him he knew nothing but to walk about the streets of Santa Paula until some one persuaded two of his fellow-countrymen to give him a ride to Ventura and the County Hospital. He died just as he reached the door of the hospital. Coroner's office is investigating the case.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 15.—An error in a telegraphic report received here by the Sheriff's office caused Richard Castle, well-known cotton buyer, to be arrested. BEANS ARE DAMAGED BY WIND AT VENTURA

VENTURA, Oct. 15.—For the first time since 1895 the east wind has caused serious loss to bean growers in this vicinity. On most ranches the beans had been cut and piled in long rows. Forty-eight hours of wind distributed them pretty generally over the landscape. A very considerable amount of beans have been blown out and lost. Besides this, the ranch owners will be at the expense of having them stacked again, ready to handle for threshing.

GRAPES MOVING IN BIG VOLUME

Railroads Meet Peak Without Serious Congestion

Plenty of Cars to Handle Record Shipments

Bank Buys New School Issue; Business News

G. W. Luca, freight traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, is authority for the statement that 23,000 carloads of grapes had left the State by October 10 over all lines, and at a time when a large volume of citrus fruit and vegetables were being handled by the carriers.

The movement had been accomplished in an efficient manner, he says, and with a minimum of delay through shortage of equipment. The Southern Pacific has effected arrangements with its eastern connections, whereby refrigerators are returning promptly, the surplus on the Southern Pacific lines on September 1 amounting to 13,400 cars.

Even though its cars are turned back as fast as possible, Mr. Luca says it has been impossible to fill all orders for refrigerators since September 20, but that the situation is much improved over last year, when the shortage was acute. In September of this year the Southern Pacific was able to start 15,000 cars of perishables to the eastern markets, the largest September movement in the history of the company.

Heavy expenditures have been incurred in order to insure an ample supply of refrigerator equipment for the fruit shipping season. According to Mr. Luca, the Pacific Fruit Express, owned jointly by the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, increased its car supply to approximately 20,000 this year, or more than one-third over 1922. This outlay of capital has a material influence on transportation costs, but the shipper has not been asked to accept the burden through increased rates, he says.

To assist in the perishable-fruit movement, the Southern Pacific placed in service fifty powerful new locomotives at a cost of several millions of dollars. Important double tracking over the Sierra Nevada and improvements in yards, terminals, roads and other facilities have also brought the system to a higher point of efficiency.

The Southern Pacific has exceeded the theoretical average daily mileage for each car of thirty miles, having averaged 41.3 miles per car for the first eight months of 1923. The average loading of thirty tons per car was almost reached, the company obtaining an average net tonnage of 27.5 tons for the first eight months, which is considered satisfactory performance in view of the large amount of light loading in perishable shipments, weighing fourteen tons or less to the car.

Other evidences of efficient transportation and the movement by each car in the eight months' period of the equivalent of 831 tons of freight one mile each day, an increase of 120 tons over 1922; placing in serviceable condition by September 1, 89.7 per cent of the locomotive equipment and 96.6 per cent of the freight car supply brought to a state of efficiency by October 1.

BY CHAPIN HALL

As the interval before the assembling of Congress narrows there is a growing anxiety in business circles over the possibilities which the uncertainty of the federal government may develop. Congress is temperamental, especially in a session preceding a Presidential campaign and there is bound to be some hesitancy until the lawmakers assemble and declare themselves.

This political aspect is more in evidence in the East and Middle West than it is in Southern California, where there is more industry and more action regardless of the buzzing of political bees.

There is nothing in the fair trade skies as glimpsed from this vantage point to lead a conservative observer to the belief that business will not continue good to the end of the year, and thereafter. Our shelves are not overcrowded, and there is no technical character to respond quickly to the growing seasonal demand which will very soon run into the holiday buying.

The situation at home is decidedly encouraging, but in Europe not so much so. In fact, it is likely to be a long time before the Old Countries will be in a position to buy from America with very great freedom. One reviewer points out that we can get along without Europe if we have to, but we shall acquire self-sufficiency only after having gone through a process of adjustment which will have to be forced upon us and accepted only after we have learned a severe lesson of overproduction in many lines.

In discussing the market one guesses is about as good as another. The public is emotional, the professional are in the saddle. Result—depression, followed by temporary rallies, mostly of a technical character. Stocks sell hardly, and after each mild rise there is a retrograde movement. The bond market is easier and during the past week there have been indications of a revived interest on the part of the investing public. In Southern California a great deal of new money is coming into circulation and a fair percentage of this is finding its way into stable investments. The investment bankers, on the whole, are encouraged.

The rails are showing strength and the oil stocks hold promising possibilities on any good news, but a close observer of the oil market said yesterday that he does not look for anything really constructive before the first of the year.

FIRM CHANGES NAME

The well known investment banking house of Cyrus Peirce &

Co., is to be known as Peirce, Fair & Co. The simple statement authorized at the Los Angeles offices of the firm recited that since the organization of Cyrus Peirce & Co., Harry H. Fair has been vice president and general manager, and it is in recognition of the important part he has had in the up-building of the company that has prompted the inclusion of his name in the corporate title.

The officers and directors of Peirce, Fair & Co., remain the same as under the former title.

LONG BEACH FINANCING

A new financial organization to be known as the Long Beach Building and Loan Association has been formed. The company is capitalized at $500,000 and is headed by the prominent Long Beach capitalist, W. H. Smith, organizer of the company, will be the secretary. Other associates are W. L. Taylor, retired; C. C. Lewis, president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce; Roland G. Bradford, attorney; and Dr. E. A. Terry, physician. Temporary quarters have been obtained at 141 East Broadway.

CREDIT SITUATION

The Credit Clearinghouse weekly report shows a slight decline in purchasing, equal to 0.8 per cent for the country as a whole compared with the preceding week. The decline also applies to California, but the slump is slight and it is easy to account for it under the head of normal fluctuations. Purchasing is as a matter of fact very active and sustained, and only slightly below the August peak. The most notable feature of the report is the heavy purchasing in Pennsylvania, probably an aftermath of the coal strike settlement.

WHEN NOT TO BUY

The Northwestern Banker puts a deal of good advice into small compass when it tells its readers that the six stock salesmen for the investor to avoid are: The man who tells you how rich you will be; the man who tells you how rich you will be; the man who tells you how rich you will be; the man who tells you how rich you will be; the man who tells you how rich you will be; the man who tells you how rich you will be.

LOCAL IRON INDUSTRY IMPROVES

Oil Companies Purchase Storage Steel; Building Demand is Good

By DON PARTRIDGE, Associate Editor "Iron Trade Review"

In reporting on the condition of the local iron and steel markets this week, Iron and Trade Review will say:

A slightly better tone is noted and, while new inquiries have not been heavy, mill representatives report an increase in the number of new ones received over those for last week. Opening of bids on the 17,000-ton Run pipe line holds the attention of the trade this week.

Sales and inquiries for pig iron and coke have been nil this week. As the stocks in foundry yards are still ample to cover all present requirements, little new buying is anticipated for some time to come. The only large award for concrete bars made this week was secured by Edward L. Soule Company and involved 135 tons for an apartment-house at 2004 Washington street, San Francisco. However, smaller lettings were numerous and tonnage in sight and pending totals well over 1500 tons.

In the plate market is increasing and storage-tank awards include six 8,000-barrel tanks, involving 1800 tons, for the Associated Oil Company, secured by the Western Pipe and Steel Company. In addition to the Bull Run pipeline project pending the city of Los Angeles is asking for bids on two and one-half miles of thirty-six-inch riveted steel pipe, involving 700 tons.

The largest structural shape award of the week was secured by the Paleton Iron Works for 600 tons for a building for the Southern California Telephone Company in Los Angeles. Bids are being received for 700 tons for an addition to the High School of Commerce in San Francisco. A good volume of small work is being booked each week.

New hoop and band business is of meager proportions and consumers are pursuing a hand-to-mouth buying policy. The most encouraging feature of this market is in the fact that prices are firm at a minimum of 2.15 cents base Pittsburgh.

Distributors of bolts, nuts and rivets are balancing up their stocks in a substantial manner and the outlook for the balance of the year is encouraging. Approximately 700 tons of rivets for the Bull Run project are up for figures. A tendency toward lower prices for boiler and structural rivets is noted in the market.

EXCITED SPECULATION IN COTTON FUTURES

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Cotton contract prices were substantially unchanged today, except for a session of the local market and the spot price was marked up 75 points. Trading was general at the start with Wall street, Liverpool and the trade buying and short covering freely, while the South spot, interest, commission houses and profit taking furnished the selling orders. Just before our opening Liverpool cable showed a decline in the West caused a flurry. October held all its 75-point gain at the close but more distant months absorbing profit taking in the final dealings were 7 to 15 points from the top at advance of 45 to 75 points.

Spot cotton was steady, 30.45 for middling upland, 28.85 for Southern spot; Norfolk, 28.85, 70 points advance; New Orleans, 29.25, 87 points advance; Savannah, 28.04, 46 points advance; Augusta, 28.06, 75 points advance; Memphis, 28.26, 75 points advance; Houston, 29.86, 75 points advance; Little Rock, 29, 80 points advance.

BOND QUOTATIONS
Industrial Yields Fall
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Bond prices moved irregularly in the trading on the New York Stock Exchange some of the industrial issues falling off to new low prices for the year while moderate advances were recorded by numerous railroad mortgages. A majority of the issues, however, showed no reaction, while the preponderance of industrial issues pointed upward.
Closing prices were not far from the final quotations on Saturday in most cases. The four Liberty issues of the United States government held steady in bull trading while the tax-exempt 3 1/2% and Treasury 4 1/4% were bought heavily at advancing prices.
Few transactions were recorded in the foreign group although the undertones seemed firm. Speculative interest was displayed in the refunding 4s certificates of the New York Railways and the bonds moved up more than 3 points.
New low records for the year were established by Public Service of New Jersey 5s, Cerro de Pasco Copper 8s, and United States Rubber 7 1/4s. Goodrich 6 1/4s touched its previous low.
Bankers reported a good sale of the Federal Land Bank issue of $47,000,000 and there were reports of an offering this week of St. Paul Terminal bonds. An issue of $15,000,000 cumulative 4 per cent preferred stock of the Nickel Plate will be offered tomorrow at 97 1/2 to yield 4 1/2 per cent.

RICE

Demand for rice from domestic consumers has been exceptionally heavy. Southern markets have held firm at the recent advance, although the future is uncertain. A steady market is indicated at Burma. Demand for foreign rice in this market has been light. Domestic rice is scarce and brings full prices before arrival.

EGGS

There were no important changes in late prices of brown eggs. There has been good demand lately for fresh receipts of white eggs and prices advanced 2 cents per dozen.

COPPER

The copper market is more or less nominal. It is still quoted at 13.14 cents for spot and 13.14 cents for 15-day delivery. London cables standard as advancing 10 to 12 1/2 for spot and 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 for 15-day delivery.

ZINC

Zinc is unchanged at 8.30 cents. St. Louis, London spot dropped 10 to 12 1/2, 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 and futures 12 1/2 to 13 1/2.

PETROLEUM

In view of the recent reductions in crude oil prices in California and Midcontinent, the local oil trade is unsettled. A factor which may be instrumental in forestalling a decline in eastern refined markets is the possibility of increased tanker rates on vessels bringing California oil here. The tank steamers market has begun to show a stiff undertone and shipping men are predicting an increase of 5 to 15 cents a barrel in the near future. The only thing that will prevent this taking place will be a material decline in California production and this does not seem likely just now.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—California oranges met with active demand on larger sizes at today's auction and prices were 10 to 15 cents a box higher for 25s and larger. Prices for 25s and smaller were about unchanged. Sales totaled forty-nine cars at a range of $3.50 to $4.50 per box. Active inquiry for California lemons prevailed; the market being strong and higher. Sales totaled four cars at a range of $2.50 to $3.50 per box. There was more strength in the market for best quality muskmelons.

CANNED FOODS

Continued active demand for standard corn has put the market up another notch and most canners are now quoting the market at 31 per dozen f.o.b. cannery, although stocks can still be had in some quarters at the old price of 25 cents.

DRIED FRUIT

Opening prices on 1923 crop caron prunes have been named by the Oregon Growers Co-operative Association as follows: Large size, $2.75 per dozen; medium, $2.50 and small $2.25 for prunes and under the "true West" brand.

SUGAR

Sugar futures were in a stronger position on resumption of trading after the three-day suspension. In call there was a net appreciation of 6 to 8 points. Firms in the remaining parcels of Cuban sugar which remain to be sold forward will not consider shading 6 cents cost and freight. The market closed firm, March 4.10 cents and May 4.13 cents. The list was posted nominally 5 to 10 points higher at the time of the advance over being estimated in the amount of 21,000 tons including switches from December to March at 108 and 110 points and from December to January at 60 points.

TEA

A fairly broad trade is being encountered in the market with indications of a good future business. Offers of standard formosa are attracting quite a bit of attention and at 15 to 18 cents are regarded as a good buy. So far as Japan and Formosa teas are concerned there is no change in the well-defined opinion that they will cost more next season because the higher wages paid. Labor in reconstruction of devastated areas in Japan is bound to be reflected in a general increase in the cost of all labor in Japan. A firm situation persists in low-grade Congous.

FREEHOLDERS CONDEMN USURPING OF POWERS

Employment of Attorney by Public Service Board Declared to be of Doubtful Legality

The Board of Freeholders by a vote of 8 to 3 last night passed a resolution condemning the assumption that any officer or commission is justified in exercising powers not conferred by the people. This attitude of the board members was affirmed over the protest and vote of Mr. John R. Haynes, Freeholder and member of the Board of Public Service Commissioners, and related to a committee recommendation that special counsel shall not hereafter be employed for any municipal department except on the written order of the City Attorney, approved by City Council.

Temblor Fund Drive Closed by 'The Times'

With the total amount donated reaching $48,645.33, The Times Japanese Fund for earthquake victims of Japan closed last night. Forty thousand dollars of the sum already has been turned over to the American Red Cross and the remainder will be given today. While it was published in the last report that $48,645.33 had been received up to that time, errors were later discovered making it necessary to deduct $55. This is done at the foot of the column showing yesterday's receipts and the totals:

CHAMBER'S WORK IS LAUDED

Former and Present Officials of Commerce Body Join in Celebrating its Thirty-Fifth Anniversary

With a giant birthday cake as the piece de resistance, past presidents, directors and other officials of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce celebrated the organization's thirty-fifth birthday at an informal party in the chamber offices yesterday afternoon. More than two score of past presidents and directors gathered around the veteran secretary, Frank Wiggins, as he cut the cake. The cake-cutting ceremony was followed by brief talks from a number of officials who have been active in the work of the organization. Touching on the high spots of the history of the organization, President Bishop recalled the fact that since its beginning, thirty-five years ago, the Chamber of Commerce has had thirty presidents, many of whom were present at the meeting yesterday. Mr. Bishop declared that these officials, backed by their directors, made Los Angeles the great city she is today.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 15.—John L. Muir was taken to the County Jail. The warrant was issued by Judge Hahn. Muir was arrested on the charge of mistreating a young girl. The girl was 14 years old. LEEDS DEFENDS TERMINAL PLAN

Plea of Roads for Rerouting Draws Declaration Proposal to Handle Freight East of River Opposed City Attorneys Want Plaza Decision First

Los Angeles, through its city government, is committed to the project of building a union passenger depot at the Plaza and to the elimination of grade crossings. In accordance with the order of the California Railroad Commission directing the railroads to build and jointly use a union station, Utilities Commissioner Walter H. Leeds declared at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, adding that no step could or would be taken by the Board of Public Utilities to jeopardize the carrying out of the terminal plan.

The comment of the commissioner was made during a hearing on the application of the Union Pacific (Salt Lake Route) and the Southern Pacific to route freight on the east side of the Los Angeles River, so as to remove most of the freight traffic from Alameda street, and for the two roads to jointly use the Arcade station for passenger service.

"The railroads," said Deputy City Attorney Milton Bryan to the board, "may be given today that if it is granted they will not use the fact that two of the roads are jointly using the same passenger depot as an argument against the Plaza union depot. But if this application is granted, and the rerouting made, there will be a condition there that will speak for itself. This condition cannot be argued away. Two of the railroads will be using the Arcade depot jointly."

RESPECT FOR LAW URGED

Speaker Tells of Need to Uphold Constitution in Address on "Playing With Fire"

"It's the time for pioneer work, for courage and for lining up. Let all of us who stand for the Constitution get on one side. And on the other side let them line up all the radicals, I.W.O.'s, Reds and pinks. Then let's fight it out, and I know what will happen. Just what happened in North Dakota. Socialism lost and Americanism won!" These words were included in an address, "Playing With Fire," delivered last night by Miss Hermina Schwed, author and lecturer of the National Association for Constitutional Government, of Washington, before the Better America Federation of Los Angeles.

Film Director Held Guilty of Attack on Girl

A jury in Judge Keetch's division of Superior Court yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against P. W. Vanderborg, self-styled motion-picture director, on trial for a week on a charge of attacking Mildred Constantine, a motion-picture "extra." The jury's verdict was returned after six hours of deliberation. Vanderborg was charged with the assault on Constantine, who was a well-known motion-picture actress. STRANGE CREW IN HARBOR

Lascars, Who Eat Rice and Curry, Work for $7 a Month; Always Pray at Sundown

From the Hoogle's food and the steaming flats of Kildareport yesterday came to Los Angeles Harbor the strangest crew that ever brought a ship Deadman's Island. They are Lascars, from India, and man the British steamer Governor, here from Calcutta via Glasgow on her first voyage on the Pacific. Mohammedan sailors are rare beings in most any port. Accordingly, the seventy-three aboard the Harrison Direct liner are attracting unusual attention along the waterfront by their odd appearance and manner, and their religious custom of prayers at sundown. Even though the wind is howling at seventy miles and the ship is (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Aspirant for Hiram Johnson Reward Says He Can Supply Issue for 'Suitable Bonus'

Many claimants continue to appear for the $30 cents reward offered by I. M. A. Phaque for a new campaign issue for Senator Hiram Johnson, as set forth in recent advertisements which The Times published gratis by way of trying to help along a worthy effort. Mr. Phaque also states that he is in receipt of a number of communications from partisans of Mr. Johnson who do not appear to credit him with genuine public-spiritedness in his earnest search for what he points out is obviously very badly needed. Mr. Phaque said yesterday that he does not propose to be deterred in his efforts and therewith renewed it without further parley. That is an issue upon which he may pounce without infringement. It would also be a question in which some hard blows might be struck and savage words spoken. He could call a lot of people hideous reactionaries. That would appeal to him, but at the same time evolution as a political or social issue which would claim the fine time and attention of the Senator and furnish him material for a life crusade is worth much more than the sum you offer in a reward. You want something more appealing than the single tax of evolution. Of course, if Hiram Johnson wishes to look horns with Mr. Bryan and subsume a lot of African gorillas in evidence he may go to (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Chief Vollmer is a practical as well as a theoretical policeman. The last lingering doubt has been removed. He has proved it in two ways. At that, the double proof might never have come out. It came out by accident; the accident being that the Chief's left thumb was still sore two days after the demonstration and may be sore for several days yet. "The soreness caused inquiries and the inquiries developed the truth and the truth furnished the proof. But this is getting complicated, whereas the proof itself is simple—doubly simple. LISTEN TO PROOF You may say that in that it is like most policemen, but that would be a libel. The Chief brought his sore thumb to the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon and asked to have it looked over. "It's swollen," said the surgeon in charge. "I already knew that," replied the Chief. "What else is the matter with it?" "It may be broken," said the surgeon hopefully, squeezing it. The Chief, thereby demonstrating the first proof of his practicality. He stopped his car, vaulted out, and brought down the pursued one with a flying tackle. The Chief and the formerly pursued, but now caught one rolled over and over and the Chief's left thumb came in violent contact with the curbing. The pursuing Crime Crushers came up, saluted a couple of times, and took their prisoner away. Later on the man was released. He was the wrong man.

POSTAL BUSINESS SHOWS GROWTH

Local Help Addition Four Times That Asked by San Francisco

An illuminating picture of the difference in the growth of Los Angeles and San Francisco is afforded by the recent requests of Postmaster Power of the latter city, and Postmaster O'Brien of this city, for additional clerks, carriers and laborers needed in the two offices.

Postmaster Power asked for and received an authorization to employ twenty additional clerks, twenty-five additional carriers and twenty-five additional laborers. Postmaster O'Brien asked for and received authority to hire 144 additional clerks, 144 additional carriers and twenty-six laborers.

These figures tell an eloquent story of the growth of the two cities.

POSTOFFICE BRANCH TO OPEN TODAY

New Station Established at Girard, Community on Ventura Boulevard

A branch of the Los Angeles Postoffice twenty-six miles north of the city limits, yet within the city limits, will be opened at Girard today.

Its official location is 5590 Ventura Canyon avenue, with L. W. Jordan, a clerk, in charge. It will be an office of the full stature of a branch, with stamps for sale, registering of letters, parcel post service, money orders, etc. There are no carriers as yet, but there will be a general delivery. The establishment of this branch at Girard is likely to be followed by similar action at a number of the home-street and inland locations along the Ventura Boulevard. The line of travel is dotted with small and large settlements, and they are growing every day.

VERDUGO BLAZE AREA SEARCHED

Death Toll Remains at Two; Bodies Recovered

Scorched Victim Drags Self to Safety

One Missing; Eagle Rock in Water Supply Protest

Despite persistent reports that three more bodies had been found in the fire-devastated Verdugo Hills district, searching parties last night returned empty-handed to Glendale. They said that during the day more than half the burned territory had been subjected to a minute search. Today it is planned to cover the other half. This leaves today's search at two, two bodies having been found Sunday.

Search for G. K. Spencer, one of Saturday's volunteers, is being made by Senator A. Burlingame and John A. Burlingame, an employee of the Senator and has not been seen since he rushed off to help check the search.

MAN BADLY BURNED

W. E. Magee of Tujunga, another volunteer, crawled out of the fire-wrecked region shortly after midnight yesterday, half dead from burns and exhaustion. Both his ears were burned off and his clothing gone. He was scorched all over his body. He had lain in an unconscious condition for more than twenty-four hours. At the Glendale Hospital every effort is being made to save the man's life.

Yesterday was given over to checking the loss and rehabilitation of the various areas which burned in Los Angeles county Saturday and Sunday, making the greatest holocaust in this vicinity has ever suffered. All the brush and industrial fires were reported to be out yesterday.

A delegation of citizens from the fifteen square miles of burned land in the Glendale-Mojave region called upon County Forester Plintham to request his aid in rehabilitation of the devastated country. Mr. Plintham will make a survey of the region and plan a campaign to rebuild the devastated country.

IMPERIAL VALLEY
EXPLOITS DAIRYING

EL CENTRO, Oct. 15.—Directors of the Farm Bureau, Chambers of Commerce, bankers and real estate dealers are co-operating in a campaign to exploit dairying in Imperial Valley. Figures submitted at a conference in Brawley showed that dairying and the sale of by-products have proved to be among the most profitable industries in the valley in the last few years. The advantages of testing cows were also shown by Farm Adviser Garth-waite. A committee was appointed to get additional data regarding dairying and submit a report at another meeting this month.

Irrigation Board
Director Named
to Fill Vacancy

EL CENTRO, Oct. 15.—Mack Trentham, Imperial farmer, received the highest vote at a special election in the Imperial division of Imperial Irrigation District to decide on the most popular candidate for director. Trentham's vote was 123, with T. D. McCall second with 124, and N. A. Mackey third with 118. The election was official and it was agreed that Trentham would be the director.
The four directors are: Trentham, Pherrin recently handed in his resignation.

It is considered doubtful whether Trentham can be elected in case of his appointment without a clash
with the four other district directors. Three of the four directors declined to accept McPherrin's resignation, asserting that no vacancy existed on the board until formal acceptance was made. Dist-Atty. Utley, in an opinion given to the Board of Supervisors, held that a vacancy existed because the law does not require acceptance of a written resignation to make it effective. The question of Trentham's appointment is expected to come before the Supervisors at the meeting tomorrow.

Bookkeeper Comes Out With Actual Facts

Erwin T. Hubbard, 2362 Francis Ave., Los Angeles, bookkeeper for the Southern Pacific Railway, is another who has cause to be glad he was induced to try the Tanlac treatment.

"Since taking Tanlac," said Mr. Hubbard, "I can eat a hearty meal without suffering afterwards and have gained fifteen pounds. I had suffered from indigestion and nervousness for two years. I could not eat anything without bloating up as tight as a drum and the gas pains in my stomach were terrible. I couldn't sleep for these pains and got awfully nervous. At times I couldn't do my work."

"Tanlac has made my stomach feel like new and I can eat and digest anything. I also sleep fine and feel fine. It was Tanlac and nothing else that put me in the good condition I am in now."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

All "—oleum" is not Linoleum! This is what Linoleum is

If you have ever used linoleum, you know how good a floor it makes—how smooth, how sanitary, how easily cleaned it is; how resilient and foot- and noiseless it is; and how beautiful and long-wearing it is. Perhaps you do not exactly know why all these things are so. In that case you should read this advertisement. It is to tell you.

What linoleum is made of Linoleum is made from cork and linseed oil and burlap—and nothing which is not made with cork and linseed oil and burlap is linoleum.

Cork—which is the outer bark of the cork oak tree—is buoyant and springy. Try this test: Put an ordinary cork bottle-stopper on the ground and press it firmly and sharply with the foot sole. It returns to form again. Cork is elastic. And linoleum is elastic.

Linoleum is made of cork, because cork is nonabsorbent. Try soaking a cork in water, leaving it there for a week. Then cut it open. You will find it dry inside.

Linoleum is made of cork, because cork is a sound-muffler. Rap your knuckles on wood, then on a piece of cork, and note the difference in the sound. Linoleum is made of cork, because cork bark is naturally tough. Cork is used for handles, for the inner soles of shoes, and for cork tiles for floors, because it resists wear. Thus linoleum, because it is made of cork, is elastic, waterproof, quiet, and extremely durable.

When cork is mixed with linseed oil

Linoleum gets its name from linseed oil, which is produced from flaxseed. Linseed oil is the same oil that is used in paint, which, when exposed to air, turns to a tough, solid film. When powdered cork is mixed with oxidized linseed oil, these two substances unite into a naturally durable and waterproof material. And when this material is pressed into burlap you have linoleum. It is hard to tear. The burlap strengthens it.

You are told these things that you may understand why linoleum is such an extraordinary flooring; also, that you may not confuse linoleum with any other flooring or floor covering whatsoever.

The difference is "—oleums"

Frederick Walton invented linoleum in 1863. He made it of cork, linseed oil, and

Customer—"Is this genuine linoleum?"
Salesman—"Yes, madam, this is Armstrong's Linoleum. It is made with cork, linseed oil, and burlap. The Circle 'A' trademark is here on the burlap back."

never cold to the touch; for cork is a nonconductor of heat. Naturally, such a floor should be laid, not tacked. And it should be laid carefully by a skilled linoleum layer.

Laying linoleum for permanency

In summer, wood floors expand. In winter, they dry out and contract, with a tendency to open up the cracks between the boards. Your linoleum floor, therefore, should be cemented (not tacked) over a lining of builders' deadening felt which has been previously pasted to the bare floor boards. The felt takes up expansion and contraction and gives you a permanent, waterproof, good-looking floor. The added service and wear this method gives are well worth the extra cost.

Your merchant will recommend Armstrong's Linoleum

Armstrong's Linoleum is made of cork, linseed oil, and burlap. Good furniture and department stores recommend it and will gladly show you modern designs and colorings that will harmonize with your decorative plans. These stores make a specialty of good linoleum laying. It will pay you to go to the merchant who features Armstrong's Linoleum.

Write for free sample and booklet

Let us send you a sample of Armstrong's Linoleum and a copy of our 24-page booklet, "New Floors for Old." The booklet contains a score of colorplates of distinctive designs of Armstrong's Linoleum, readily obtainable at most good stores; also information on laying linoleum and on how to care for your linoleum floors, together with names of merchants in your city who handle Armstrong's Linoleum.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Quickening the Process
If you wish to quicken the process of quickening, add a few drops of lemon juice to the liquid as cold as possible. This greatly quickens the process.

Charcoal of Jack Frost
Don't leave the plants on the porch overnight when the days begin to get a bit cold. If you have Jack Frost, chances to nip them and you have porch decorations for another year.

Worm Season
When the seams of your rug begin to show wear and the rug is faded, buy soft crayons of the color of the rug and touch up the worn places with the crayons. You will be surprised how much it will brighten.

DAILY DOT PUZZLE

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

SWALLOWING WRONG THINGS AND SWALLOWING THINGS WRONG

In case a child gets a small object stuck in his mouth and is choking, turn quickly upside down and slap smartly on the back. If the child is too large to turn upside down, put him over a chair with his head and chest down. Be careful if you attempt to take the object out of the child's mouth not to push it farther down.

If the child should swallow the object, don't worry about it—unless it is a poison, of course; for if it can go down safely it can usually come out safely.

Don't give a cathartic. That will rush the object through and perhaps do damage. Feed the child a dish of cereal bran every night. As a matter of fact, if the child is not old enough for cereals, feed the regular diet, omitting the fruit juice for a few days. Watch the bowel movements for the appearance of the object, to ease your mind.

Four physicians may decide to have X-ray pictures to watch its progress if it is a pointed object. It may be a week or so before it appears.

Don't leave safety pins around babies nor allow them to have small objects to play with.

Never put saloons in medicine bottles without labeling them. Also get some tiny bells and tie one around the neck of any bottle containing a poison. This for the night-walkers.

Needless to say, all poisons should be kept out of the reach of children.

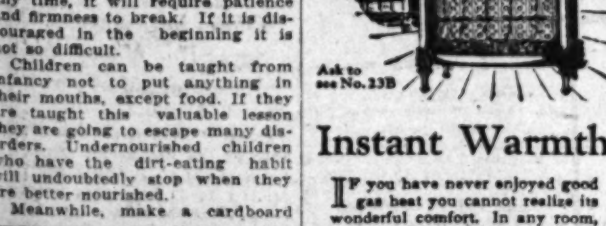

DIRT-EATING

Occasionally children will eat dirt, clay, pencils, chalk and plaster. It is generally thought that this habit indicates some abnormal craving of the child, and that it shows the need of the system for inorganic material. It may be possible that this is so, for we seldom see a child who is healthy and is normally fed, eat such things.

Of course children are great imitators and I think it is possible that some perfectly healthy children might take up this dirt-eating habit if they saw their companions doing it. Like other habits, if it has been allowed to continue for any time, it will require patience and firmness to break. If it is discouraged in the beginning it is not so difficult.

Children can be taught from infancy not to put anything in their mouths, except food. If they are taught this valuable lesson they are going to escape many disorders. Undernourished children will undoubtedly stop when they are better nourished.

DIRT-EATING

Occasionally children will eat dirt, clay, pencils, chalk and plaster. It is generally thought that this habit indicates some abnormal craving of the child, and that it shows the need of the system for inorganic material. It may be possible that this is so, for we seldom see a child who is healthy and is normally fed, eat such things.

There is only ONE GENUINE Charmeen

Originated and Manufactured by FORSTMANN & HUFFMANN COMPANY

THE attention of the Forstmann and Huffmann Company has been drawn to the fact that certain garment manufacturers are advertising in reputable publications for Charmeen or for imitations thereof.

Two of the advertisements, which are reproduced above, make inquiry for Charmeen indicating the type of so-called "Charmeen" preferred. The third advertisement makes inquiry for "Charmeen" or for some imitation.

Evidently certain garment manufacturers are under the impression that this fabric is made by a number of Mills, and that the term Charmeen represents a type of weave rather than a particular fabric.

The trade is hereby notified that Charmeen is the registered trade name of a worsted fabric for women's wear, and that it was originated and is manufactured in one quality and one weight solely by the Forstmann and Huffmann Company of Passaic, N. J. If any fabric, other than the genuine, is offered under the name of Charmeen, it is a gross infringement on the rights of the Forstmann and Huffmann Company, and a deception of the purchasing public.

The Forstmann and Huffmann Company will be grateful for evidence of any actual or attempted misuse of the registered trade name Charmeen through the offer or the sale as Charmeen of any fabric other than its own genuine product.

In this campaign the Forstmann and Huffmann Company feels that it is expressing the attitude of other woolen manufacturers who are equally jealous of the integrity of their products, and that no reputable manufacturer would desire his product to be sold as the product of another manufacturer.

The Forstmann and Huffmann Company in its determination to prevent any attempts at deception through the misuse of the registered trade names of its fabrics, is actuated by a desire to protect alike the garment manufacturer, the retailer and the purchasing public.

Chapter XLIII
BANK ROBBERS
"Bank robber" and "yegg" are not necessarily synonymous expressions. While a yegg is a bank robber, yet all bank robbers are not yeggs.

The yegg is a safe blower. But a man may rob a bank without being able to blow a safe. There are certain gangs of thugs that specialize in robbing banks, just as there are other organizations that stick to the train hold-up game.

Bank robbers, train robbers and pay-roll bandits consider themselves the elite among crooks. A bank robber, for instance, wouldn't wipe his feet on a thief, and probably would be insulted if asked to share the same cell with a burglar.

The yegg, that is, a thief, takes a higher degree of daring and great physical courage to rob a train or a bank than it does to pick a pocket.

The bank robber may have an inside man who is giving him information, or he may be simply working from hunches and what he can learn by watching the joint. Some crooks rob a bank only when the money is in transit. They specialize on messengers and treasure automobiles. Others go into an institution and stick up the cashier or teller.

The stunt of entering a bank, peking a gun into the face of the cashier and demanding "money or your life" is becoming more and more dangerous. Too many plainclothesmen are loitering about banks to make a burglar-alarm system that can be set off with a touch of the foot or the pressure of a button, have taken the edge off of this sport.

Not infrequently the robber who tries to stick up a bank by the direct method of a hail of bullets and is glad to flee or put up his hands and surrender. Cashiers and tellers, however, are armed and they are not afraid to shoot. A recent invention makes it possible for a bank official by the pressure of a foot to cause a steel, bullet-proof shield to fly up in front of him. The robber might fire at this all day and hurt no one. At the same time shots are being fired at the cashier or teller. The plundering of bank messengers has almost superseded the direct hold-up scheme. For instance, in Maywood, a Chicago suburb, a criminal clique discovered when the payroll of a big canning company was taken from the bank to the cannery in a car. Every week this money was carried from the banking institution to the industrial plant. The crooks knew exactly along which streets the car traveled and at what hours, and they lay in wait for it.

When the treasure automobile was only two blocks from the bank with the bank president, the Chief of Police and a bank messenger guarding the $12,000 payroll, a big touring car drew up alongside and the bandits opened fire without a word. John Sotell, the bank president, was shot dead as he reached for his gun, and the others were wounded.

The average bank robber is a ruthless, vicious, depraved enemy of society. There is nothing romantic about him.

WOMEN NEAR DESERT DEATH

Two Chicago Nurses Stalled in Car on Arid Waste Tell of Rescue by Cowboy

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Elsie Mulford and Miss Gertrude Perkins, graduates of Cook County Hospital, Chicago, have reached here on a motor trip across the country, and with a harrowing story to tell of having been lost for three days on the desert, between Steamboat Landing and Vernal, Utah.

"We were saved by a cowboy, after we had starved for three days without food, except a few crackers which we were afraid to eat for they would have increased our thirst. We got off the road, and by the time we discovered this fact and started back we discovered the winds had obliterated the tracks of our car," said Miss Perkins.

GASOLINE GONE
"The car had run out of gasoline, and after staying in the machine for two days, because the scant supply of water in the radiator was all used, we started out in a desperate effort to find help. We had gone possibly a mile from the car when we heard a shot, and looking back, saw a horseman galloping toward us. He had been to the car, and looking about had caught a glimpse of us. Mrs. Mulford, exhausted, had sunk down in the sand, exclaiming: 'Gertrude, let's pray, it's our only hope.'"

"We were alone, he told us the car by the cowboy, who told us to sit in its shade while he went back to the ranch house, a few miles distant, for relief. It took him almost seven hours, for he had deep sand to ride through. He came back with some gasoline, water for the radiator and food for us. We followed him until we got back to the highway, where there was a small filling station."

SEEN BY ACCIDENT
"We had been driving away from help. When we left the car to walk we were walking still further into the heart of the desert. We came as near perishing as I ever care to come. The cowboy told us that it was merely by accident he had seen the car. He had started out the night before to round up several strays, and was on a mountain ridge several miles from where our car stopped. In surveying the hills for the strays, through his glass, he happened to see the car, and decided to investigate."

"He said he was expecting to find the car dead, and looking about happened to glimpse Mrs. Mulford fall to her knees, for he was intending to ride in an opposite direction from that taken by us. A moment more and we would have been over a knoll and out of view. The wind was blowing a hurricane obliterating our tracks."

From here the young women, who came into Santa Barbara from the north, motored to Los Angeles.

CRYER DUE TO TAKE UP JOB TODAY

Complaints Against De Coo First on Program for Mayor's Consideration

Mayor Cryer is scheduled to return today to his duties at the City Hall after a week's vacation and is expected to give his attention to the resolutions adopted by the Westlake Presbyterian Church and by the Municipal League urging that the Mayor take action to secure a new Board of Police Commissioners.

Acting Mayor Workman said yesterday that in the absence of the Mayor he thought that it would be unfair to the Mayor for the Acting Mayor to remove Commissioner De Coo, though, "Mr. Workman said, he was confident that the Council would confirm the removal."

The resolutions of the Westlake Presbyterian Church commanded Mayor Cryer and Chief Vollmer for their work in combating crime, but condemned the "un-American attitude" of the Board of Police Commissioners whose recent official act not only tend to nullify and offset the efforts of the police department, but to wholly demoralize and destroy the morale of the entire police department."

Annulment proceedings were started yesterday by Florence L. Whitley, 1921, were denied yesterday by Judge Hardy. The defendant was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Trager and arrangements were made for Chief Deputy Sheriff Parsons of Phoenix to take her there for trial.

Two writs of habeas corpus, sued on behalf of Mrs. Esther Lee Fulton, accused of the murder near Phoenix, Ariz., of James J. Knight in 1921, were denied yesterday by Judge Hardy. The defendant was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Trager and arrangements were made for Chief Deputy Sheriff Parsons of Phoenix to take her there for trial.

Checking of plans by three outside architects to get their criticisms and suggestions, was requested of the Board of Supervisors yesterday in a resolution adopted by the Municipal League executive committee. The resolution pointed out that aqueduct, power plants, outfall sewer and other important undertakings had been passed on by disinterested specialists before construction was begun.

The resolution called attention of the Supervisors to criticisms of the plans which, it said, are being made. These are, that the interior of the building has been designed for the working force of the country construction department, said to be inexperienced in work of this class; that the exterior has been made extravagantly expensive by the use of granite facing the full height of the building; that the design will not harmonize with the civic center plan; that it contains interior light wells which cannot be ventilated, and that the plans and specifications were gone over by competent architects, non-residents of Los Angeles county, was suggested for the checking.

HALLOWEEN SALAD
R. C. city, thanks us for the recipe published in this department and asks that we give her a recipe for a salad to serve with sandwiches for a Halloween supper.

Run half a pound of yellow cheese through the fine knife of the meat chopper and work into a stiff paste with two tablespoons of mustard, two tablespoons of cream butter, one teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, and half a teaspoon of salt. Roll the paste into round balls the size of a walnut and mark with whole cloves so that they will look like a small yellow pumpkin cut for a lantern. MAPS FILED FOR OPENING BEACH ROAD

Plans Ready for Widening of Trolleyway and Highway Along Palisades

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, Oct. 15.—Maps were filed this morning at the local Chamber of Commerce showing three widths for the proposed opening of Trolleyway as an automobile boulevard and the Palisades beach road with a strip added from railway land that would make its width forty feet. These maps are open for inspection by interested property owners.

The Trolleyway maps provide for boulevards 100, 120 and 127 feet in width. Each map provides for the Pacific Electric Railway tracks in the center of the street below grade.

It is understood that the railway company has agreed to interpose no more than perfunctory opposition to condemnation proceedings to acquire land for any of these plans or for the strip to widen the Palisades beach road.

The latter project is advanced for the purpose of connecting with the Coast highway from Oxnard to San Francisco.
